TRAINING

Programme : Enhanced Learning

Despite recent advances, many children in the UK continue to underachieve. We look at strategies to personalise the learning journey, and understand learning to be a two-way process where responsibility is shared and in partnership.

Understanding the dynamic and multiple nature of intelligence underpins a growth model of learning. Building personal capacity comes from having the knowledge that enables the right decisions to be made within learning activities. Personalizing learning requires dialogue to explain and support the individual journey for each learner.

- Address the educational inequality that affects the life chances of every child
- Tackle underachievement and develop excellence in practice
- Promote high expectations, positive attitudes and encourage independence
- Encourage respectful behaviour and the growth of self esteem
- Gain strategies for improved participation and to manage disaffection
